INTERIOR DESIGN

Karthas Academy - School of interior design offers courses and programs focused on the art and science of designing indoor spaces. This institute provide students with the knowledge, skills, and practical experience needed to create functional and aesthetically pleasing environments.

The curriculum covers subjects such as design principles, space planning, color theory, furniture design, architectural detailing, and the use of various materials. Students may also learn about historical design styles, contemporary trends, and sustainable design practices.

We have dedicated studio spaces where students can work on design projects and collaborate with their peers. These projects allow students to apply their theoretical knowledge to real-world scenarios, honing their creativity and problem-solving skills.

The faculty consists of experienced professionals from the field, including practicing interior designers, architects, and design educators. Guest lectures, workshops, and industry visits will provide students with exposure to the industry and networking opportunities.

Upon completing Diploma courses from here, students can pursue careers as interior designers, space planners, consultants, stylists, or even start their own design firms based on their previous educational background. The field offers opportunities to work in residential, commercial, hospitality, and retail spaces, among others.

An institute of interior design plays a crucial role in training design aspirants to become skilled and knowledgeable interior designers who can shape and enhance the spaces we live and work in.
